

New for Fall 2008

Midlands Technical College increases the number of courses offered two days a week

To help offset rising transportation costs, MTC is making it possible for students to take the same class offerings while making fewer trips to campus. Beginning this fall, most courses previously offered Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays will now meet for a longer period on Mondays and Wednesdays only. Section numbers and credit hours for these classes have not changed.